PICTURE OF FAMILY GROUP
REPRESENTING FOUR GENERATIONS

Dr. J. W. Bachman, Mrs. Anne Bachman Hyde, John Bachman Hyde and the 8-months-old daughter of John Hyde, Baby Rose, granddaughter of Mrs. Hyde and great-granddaughter of Dr. J. W. Bachman.

It is seldom that one sees such a cheery, smiling group as the above picture shows, representing four generations. The difference between the great-grandfather's age, the beloved and venerable pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Dr. J. W. Bachman, and that of his great-grandchild is eighty years. His daughter, Mrs. Anne Bachman Hyde, has the distinction of being the daughter and the wife of a minister, and is one of the best in-ish, he being assisted by Alhambra's illustrious potentate, John Staub Fouché, who has already invited more kiddies to go in his car than the safety first rule permits. Other cars of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will also be loaded to full limit with children and grown-ups, to say nothing of baskets laden with things that might cause Mr. Hoover to frown just a little. However, the event is for one afternoon, and as it happens only once a year, the committee feels that no criticism will be offered.

Mrs. C. E. Buek was made chairman of the committee in charge of the building. Mrs. C. C. Nottingham was appointed chairman of a committee to select a suitable location. As yet, no particular building or room has been taken under consideration, but it is thought the choice will be made this week.

MISS VAN KIRK TO LECTURE ON ITALY

Profusely Illustrated Lecture to Be Given for Benefit of Red Cross at Signal Mountain.

Under the auspices and for the benefit of the Signal Mountain Red Cross auxiliary, Miss Lila Van Kirk, of New York, will give an illustrated talk on "Italy and the War," at Signal Mountain inn July 5, at 8:30 p.m. Miss Van Kirk has been booked in such universities as Columbia, Lehigh, Stanford and California. She has traveled extensively in Europe, and has been a close student of Italian history, having a thorough knowledge both of the country and its people.

The speaker's talk Friday evening will be the story of the Risorgimento, the tragic history of the "Unredeemed" and the reason why today a whole nation should fly to arms at the mention of the names of Trieste, Trentino, Istria and the Cuzzolonia Islands.

Italy's alliance with the central powers, her reasons for severing the same, her days of neutrality in Rome and her future aims will be graphically told. When could the hour be more appropriate for a resume of Italy, as the "Mother of Civilization" than now, when not only the eyes of all the world are again being turned upon her, but when our own boys are going there to aid in the heroic work which this gifted people have achieved in the great world conflict.

Admission Friday evening will be one dollar, and the members of the Signal Mountain Red Cross auxiliary ask that none will miss this opportunity of hearing Miss Van Kirk, as they believe they are offering Signal Mountain a treat that will be more than worth while.

PRESIDENT WILSON COMMENDS GARDENING

"Penrod" Letter of Booth Tarkington Accompanies Missive Received by Mrs. McDonald.

Mrs. Lucy Holtzclaw McDonald is in receipt of a letter from Booth Tarkington to the children of the United States garden army. The document was mailed from the department of the interior and the letter, signed "Penrod Schofield," gives the writer's experience as a soldier in the gardening army.

She is also in receipt of a letter from President Wilson to Secretary Lane commending the garden movement.

The Penrod letter, which is really to the children, is also addressed to Secretary Lane. The so-called "letter," which is gotten up in order to interest children in gardening, relates some discouraging experiences trying to keep Neighbor Tronk's chickens at bay, watching for seed to come up, and ends with an outburst of patriotism after assuring all would-be planters that they are really as much a component part of the American army as if they carried a gun.

President Wilson's letter, which, however, is a genuine one, follows: "The White House, Washington."

"My Dear Mr. Secretary—I sincerely hope that you may be successful through the bureau of education in arousing the interest of teachers and children in the schools of the United States in the cultivation of home gardens. Every boy and girl who really sees what the home garden may mean will, I am sure, enter into the purpose with high spirits, because I am sure they would all like to feel that they are in fact fighting in France by joining the home garden army. They know that America has undertaken to send meat and flour and wheat and other foods for the support of the soldiers who are doing the fighting, for the men and women who are making the munitions, and for the boys and girls of western Europe, and that we must also feed ourselves while we are carrying on this war. The movement to establish gardens, therefore, and to have the children work in them is just as real and patriotic an effort as the building of ships or the firing of cannon. I hope that every school will have a regiment in the volunteer war garden army."

"Cordially and sincerely yours," "Hon. Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior."
